Important Information about Lodging and Attending the Training

EPA Headquarters will be covering the lodging for approved EPA regional human health and ecological risk assessor attendees through a Master Account with the hotel. For EPA Headquarters to cover lodging, those approved regional human health and ecological risk assessors must stay at the Palmer House. If an attendee designated for the EPA Master Account selects to stay at another hotel, your program and or regional office is responsible for covering your lodging expenses.

For those EPA participants traveling to attend the training, you will need to include a copy of an EPA's Office of Human Resources (OHR) approval SF-182 memo that approves the use of training account codes to cover lodging and per diem expenses for the upcoming training program in your travel orders or travel vouchers in Concur. Please work with your regional training coordinator to complete an SF-182 training form, or a copy of a group SF-182 training form for your region as an attachment in your travel orders or voucher. An SF-182 training form must be submitted to your regional training office and approved by the training office prior to travel.

Each traveling EPA participant will also have to enter a project code into your travel authorization/voucher. The specific project code for the 2022 training is MM757206. The specific project code is entered in the Site Project field in the Accounting section of Concur.
